Community Council Programs
JLMC members are required to complete four hours of community service each year.

Community Impact Project - GROWING UP GARDENS
Childhood obesity is a significant issue in Monterey County. Approximately forty-five percent of children living in Monterey County are obese or overweight. The JLMC has identified school gardens as a way of addressing the issue of childhood obesity. Our intent is to educate children, parents, and schools on the benefits and importance of healthy eating.

MY Museum, Monterey Youth Museum, was started as a JLMC Project. Once MY Museum became independently sustainable, it was turned over to its own community Board of Directors, as is JLMC’s practice. Examples of other JLMC community projects include the Family Resource Center, now an integral part of Community Human Services, the Salinas Adult Day Care Center, Meals on Wheels of the Monterey Peninsula, and the Silent Witness Project. JLMC renovated and maintains the Old Whaling Station Adobe, which is open to the public and also serves as home to the JLMC.
In addition to long-term signature projects, JLMC members participate in “Done-in-a-Day” projects throughout the year.

Finance Council Programs
JLMC members are required to complete a minimum of six hours annually volunteering on fundraising projects that sustain the JLMC and its community projects. These fundraising opportunities have included the Annual JLMC Crab Feed, AT&T Pebble Beach National Pro-Am Golf Tournament, and Christmas in the Adobes.

Membership Council Programs
The Education and Training Committee is one of several committees that comprise the Membership Council. JLMC members are required to attend a minimum of one (1) Education and Training event each League year. These training events are intended to enhance JLMC members’ skills in a variety of areas, and have included trainings in grant writing, etiquette, nutrition, self-defense, CPR, wine tasting, stress reduction, getting organized, financial guidance and planning, and the list goes on.
